

In the middle, we have the topological space $(0,1) \times (0,1)$. As this isn't compact, we can compactify it to either (1) a sphere, by adding a point and identifying all four sides with the point, or adding sufficient points to (2) identify opposite edges to obtain a torus.